This policy also should be read alongside the new National Curriculum in England (published September 2013) and other documents from the Standards and testing Agency.

Our Curriculum overview, medium and short term planning can help support this policy, as will a look at these relevant schemes of work:

- Phonics
- Grammar and Punctuation
- Spelling programme

Rationale

The National Curriculum (2014) clearly states that teaching the English language is an essential, if not the most essential role of a primary school.

At school we recognise that without effective communication, little achievement can be made. We know that we have a duty to ensure that English teaching is a priority and we recognise that this is necessarily cross-curricular and a constant throughout school life and beyond. It is part of the ‘essential knowledge’ (p6 National Curriculum) that is needed in society:

‘Teachers should develop pupils’ spoken language, reading, writing and vocabulary as integral aspects of the teaching of every subject. English is both a subject in its own right and the medium for teaching; for pupils, understanding the language provides access to the whole curriculum. Fluency in the English language is an essential foundation for success in all subjects.’ (p10 National Curriculum)

We are an inclusive school, we set high expectations and recognise the importance of accurate and regular assessment in order to support individuals at every part of their learning journey and in whatever circumstances. We use one to one support, small groups and cross-phase work to help with this. We plan teaching opportunities to help those for whom English is an additional language and those with disabilities outlined in the SEN code of practice. We agree with the statement of the National Curriculum, that ‘pupils... who do not learn to speak, read and write fluently and confidently are effectively disenfranchised’ (p13).
1 Spoken Language

The National Curriculum states that pupils should be ‘taught to speak clearly and convey ideas confidently in Standard English’ (p10). They should:

- Justify ideas with reasons.
- Ask questions to check understanding.
- Develop vocabulary and build knowledge.
- Negotiate.
- Evaluate and build on the ideas of others.
- Select the appropriate register for effective communication.
- Give well structured descriptions and explanations.
- Speculate, hypothesise and explore ideas.
- Organise their ideas prior to writing.

Our aims and connected provision

We encourage our pupils to speak clearly and confidently and articulate their views and opinions. We teach children to express themselves orally in an appropriate way, matching their style and response to audience and purpose, listening and responding to literature, giving and receiving instructions. Children develop the skills of participating effectively in group discussions.

Ways in which we support this include:

- Activities which are planned to encourage full and active participation by all children, irrespective of ability.
- Children with specific speech and language and auditory problems will be identified and specialist help sought, where appropriate.
- Encouraging talk-time at home through ‘talk homework’ which is shared in assembly and by encouraging reading and talk about books.
- Talk for Writing.
- School Plays.
- Class debates.
- Weekly assembly.
- Events within the community.
- School Council.
- Talk partners.
- Drama/role play.
- PSHE and circle time.

Children who are in need of extra support in this area benefit from Speech and Language link.

2 Reading

The National Curriculum states that pupils should be taught to read fluently, understand extended prose and be encouraged to read for pleasure. Reading is singled out as of extreme importance since through it ‘pupils have a chance to develop culturally, emotionally, intellectually, socially and spiritually’ (p13). Reading allows pupils to ‘acquire knowledge’ and to ‘build on what they already know’ (p13).

Schools are expected to have library facilities and support and encourage reading at home.

The 2014 Curriculum divides reading skills into two dimensions:
We recognise that both these elements are essential to success and we support the acquisition of both sets of skills through various methods. We recognise that these areas are clearly linked to the other aspects of English learning: speaking and listening, writing, grammar and vocabulary. We also understand that reading is a developmental process and part of life-long learning and we encourage and praise children at every stage of it.

Our aims and connected provision

- Pupils learn to read easily and fluently through daily phonics in Key Stage One, regular reading to adults in school, guided reading and incentives to read at home.
- Pupils develop skills in reading for understanding using a number of books which we have in school eg Bug Club, Rigby Star, Floppy’s Phonics, Oxford Reading Tree. We adapt which books we use to meet the needs of our pupils. In guided reading they read books which are more challenging than those which they might be able to read independently. They may then use these books for various tasks including comprehension, writing and speaking and listening tasks.
- Pupils are encouraged to read widely, through our use of differing class texts, library visits and high quality attractive books in classrooms.
- Pupils are encouraged to read for pleasure using reading partners, quiet reading time, listening to an adult read and the various methods outlined above.
- Pupils also need to read to find information in all lessons and comprehension is assessed in a formal way every term.
- Pupils are exposed to a range of texts from their literacy heritage during their school career.
- Key Stage Two pupils or children who are level 2c and above benefit from reciprocal reading during guided reading sessions. This approach incorporates speaking and listening as well as comprehension skills.

Children who are struggling or all falling behind their peers in reading and phonics benefit from extra reading and phonics session delivered on a regular basis.

3 Writing

The National Curriculum states that pupils should:

- Develop the stamina and skills to write at length.
- Use accurate spelling and punctuation.
- Be grammatically correct.
- Write in a range of ways and purposes including narratives, explanations, descriptions, comparisons, summaries and evaluations.
- Write to support their understanding and consolidation of what they have heard or read.

The 2014 Curriculum divides writing skills into two dimensions:

- Transcription (spelling and handwriting).
- Composition (articulating ideas in speech and writing).

We recognise that both these elements are essential to success and we support the acquisition of both sets of skills through various methods. We recognise that these areas are clearly linked to the other aspects of English learning: speaking and listening, reading, grammar and vocabulary.
Our aims and connected provision

- We teach grammar as a separate lesson where necessary.
- We correct grammatical error orally/written work (where appropriate).
- We have a systematic approach - we revisit key learning and build upon it in all areas from phonics, through to grammar and spelling.
- We use high quality texts, modelling and shared/collaborative writing to demonstrate good practice.
- We encourage and promote ‘talk for writing’.
- We provide story maps and writing frames to support the least confident.
- We provide time for planning, editing and revising.
- We mark extended pieces of work in-depth and set targets with the pupil.
- We use checklists for pupils to self assess or peer assess, when appropriate so they can evaluate effectively.
- We encourage joined handwriting to support spelling and speed.
- We use drama and hot-seating to help pupils to think about another point of view.
- Support for pupils with learning and motor difficulties.

4 Vocabulary Development

The National Curriculum makes clear that learning vocabulary is key to ‘learning and progress across the whole curriculum’ (p11) since it allows pupils to access a wider range of words when writing and for them to understand and comprehend texts efficiently.

Vocabulary teaching needs to be:

- Active.
- Progressive/systematic.
- Making links from known words.
- Develop understanding of shades of meaning.
- Include ‘instruction verbs’ used in examinations.
- Subject specific - accurate mathematical and scientific words.

Our aims and connected provision:

We encourage our pupils to have a wide and growing vocabulary in a number of ways, these include:

- Spelling lists/key words to take home and learn.
- Display of key words linked to topics and subjects.
- Using the correct vocabulary orally.
- In-depth word based lessons looking at patterns.
- Using dictionaries, thesaurus and similar programmes.
- Carrying out systematic testing and providing feedback to pupils.
- Targeted one to one/small group support, where appropriate.

5 Planning and Assessment

Planning:

- Long term overviews can be found online for Early Years and Key Stages One and Two.
- Pupils are taught in mixed Key Stage Classes and planning shows differentiation by age and ability.
- Medium term (half–termly) planning is stored centrally.
• Schemes of work for phonics and grammar and spelling are used to ensure developmental learning building on prior knowledge.
• Short term planning is flexible allowing for assessment for learning after each session/group of sessions.
• Pupils may be streamed by ability for some sessions/types of homework/support.
• Pupils entitled to Pupil Premium funding will be given additional English support which is tracked and monitored termly.
• Pupils with English as an Additional Language (EAL) will be given additional English support which is tracked and monitored termly.

Assessment:
• Staff assess pupils' learning during and as part of every session - they adapt their practice accordingly.
• Regular ‘Big Write’ tasks are levelled and this is tracked.
• Formal assessments of Reading Comprehension and Spelling and Grammar (SPAG) ability are carried out, tracked and monitored, at least termly.
• Writing levels are assessed using APP - these are tracked termly.
• Staff attend moderating sessions within county including the local cluster.
• End of Key Stage Assessments are analysed by the Co-ordinator and Head Teacher and feed into the school Self Evaluation Form (SEF), development plan and performance management.

6 Professional development
• The English Co-ordinator attends training within, as required, and reports back to all staff.
• Staff are expected to attend relevant courses during the school year.
• Moderation takes place in house, within the cluster and with support from the Local Authority.
• A writing moderation file is held in the office for consultation.

7 Specific groups
• Analysis of English achievement is carried out termly, pupils who are slow moving or making little or no progress are discussed and plans made.
• Pupils entitled to Pupil Premium are given additional English support, if required, and this is monitored for effectiveness termly.
• Pupils with EAL are given additional support, if required, in all aspects of English.
• Pupils who are gifted and talented receive additional support, if required, differentiated curriculum and may be entered for Level 6 tests at the end of Key Stage Two.
• Pupils with SEN will have English based targets on their IEP. These are reviewed termly.
